Dear distinguished parent,

That periodic moment of excitement is here again. We have once again successfully navigated the murky waters of surrogate parenting. And the experience is as interesting as it was challenging. Let us in our usual manner, briefly but clinically re – examine the entire engagement in order to equip ourselves for the future.

EXTERNAL ENGAGEMENT:

- Cow Bell Mathematics Contest: We enrolled our students to participate in the national cowbell mathematics contest. They have done the basic which held at the GSS Owerri at the state level and awaiting result to proceed to the national level.
- Spelling B Contest: One of our students, OKECHUKWU VIRTUE of SSS 1, attended the national spelling B contest held at the Micheal Okpara University of Agriculture, Umudike, Abia State.
- Horticultural Excursion: The SSS 2 Agricultural Science students were taken out on an excursion to an exquisite Horticultural garden in town to learn about flowers.

CHELLENGES:

- Many of the students are not being provided with text books and other relevant instructional materials required for their academic growth.
- Parents allow their children to bring prohibited materials into the school and are quick to come demanding for such items when seized by the relevant authorities in line with a recent PTA resolution.
- Parents submit themselves to cheap manipulation by mischievous wards trying to evade due punishment for gross violation of school rules and regulations.

- Some parents insult our staff in the presence of their wards and when such students turn out recalcitrant the same parents blame the school for not being had enough on the students.
- Students unduly expose themselves to cold by leaving their windows open at night and at times taking down their foams to sleep on tiled floor. We punish them when caught, yet they keep doing it.
- Distorted academic programmes due to the uncertain political atmospheric and the attendant unscheduled short breaks.

PTA:

- The PTA agreed on a PTA levy of ₦3000.00 per year. However the parents are not paying up as expected. They antagonize the management because of this. Again, most parents find it difficult to attend PTA meetings.
- SSS 3: This is to inform parents that the SSSCE exam has started. The exams will end on 27th May, 2019 and NECO commences thereafter.
- Overall Best: MISS JESSICA ONUOHA of JSS 2 has once again clinched the highly coveted free tuition by emerging the overall best in academic grading with the average score of 88.0.

MANAGEMENT RESOLUTION: The school management, after a critical review of recent developments concerning punishment. Defaulting students and the compromising attitude of parents has resolved to henceforth employ the instrumentality of suspension and in an extreme situations, outright expulsion will be employed to deal with issues.
